

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT,

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
THIRD STREET,
East side, between Market and Jefferson streets.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING NOTICE.—All advertising of Public Meetings, Banquets, Old Fellow Dinners, &c., are charged fifty cents per square of six inches each, and twenty-five cents each line.

Advertisements of Situations Wanted, Rentals, &c., the first and second columns, are charged twenty-five cents each line, or less, are charged twenty-five cents each line.

Advertisements published in the morning paper are inserted in the evening edition at half price.

ALL TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

For President,
JAMES BUCHANAN, OF PENNSYLVANIA.

For Vice President,
JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, OF KENTUCKY.

Electoral Ticket.

For the State at large—HUN. ELIJAH HUSS,
COL. J. W. STEVENSON.

First—J. D. GHILSON.

Second—GEORGE W. WILLIAMS.

Third—JOHN A. FINN.

Fourth—THOMAS CRAVEN.

Fifth—EDWARD MCGOWIN.

Sixth—R. F. RICE.

Seventh—WM. D. REED.

Eighth—R. W. WOOLLEY.

Ninth—H. STANTON.

Tenth—HIRAM KELSEY.

FRIDAY, - - - AUGUST 29, 1856.

Special Notice to BUSINESS MEN.

As an advertising paper, the Democrat is universally regarded as the established medium of business communication between the buyer and seller; its largely increasing circulation, both at home and abroad, offers a favorable opportunity for a judicious dissemination of mercantile intelligence. It is also a favorite family journal, hence retail dealers, as well as more extensive tradespeople, mechanics and citizens will find its columns essential to prosperous business.

It stands at the head of one of the great parties of the country, reaching thousands that no other medium does reach. Now that the "Old Campaign" is drawing upon us, we hope they will not fail to learn the facilities our paper affords them, but at once avail themselves of its advantages, which surpass anything in its former history.

The organ repeats the contemptible falsehood we have noticed before. Already, says the organ, in Democratic circles at Washington, the party of writing drawing him (Buchanan) from the ranks has been mooted. Now, the editor of the organ knows that such a idea as that of withdrawing Buchanan ever entered the head of one of his party in America, either in Washington or elsewhere. There is not a Democrat in the United States who would not laugh at the suggestion.

The necessity for rejecting a falsehood that the organ in Kentucky would laugh at, shows that the Know-Nothing party has played its last card.

"Many," says the organ, "who have hitherto followed the fortunes of the Democratic party, are now anxious to give up their candidate." And yet there is not a man in the Democratic party who has hitherto followed its fortunes, who would consent to give up his candidate for any political consideration, and every intelligent man knows it. The Democratic party everywhere have no compunctions in ranks with Know-Nothing or Black Republicans. They would not, on any terms, support the nominees of an oath-bound proscriptive Union, that was upon race and religion. They will not sacrifice their country to a mob organization, nor to sectional domination.

There never was a time in the history of this country, when Democrats were more proud of their party and patriotic position. They know that their party, as well as the hopes of the good and wise of all parties, depend upon their success. Their men, their creed and their objects, are now of the first importance. Daily the representatives of the old Whig party are declaring themselves for Buchanan and Breckinridge, knowing that their success is the hope of the country.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all his supporters vote for Fillmore, the latter will be elected, and that is the only chance of Fillmore's success. Now that is very true.

We have no doubt at all, Fillmore could then give all the supporters he has to Fremont, and then be quite sure of an election.

But it is vain for Fillmore to withdraw, for then Fremont would be elected. Now, what plainest confession that Fillmore's supporters in the free States are Abolitionists could he make? They may prefer Fillmore, if he continues a candidate, but if he withdraws, then they go to Fremont. The easiest suggestion, then, is that the South join a portion of Northern Abolitionists, and vote for Fillmore; whilst we know that these are a solid Union with their brethren and all Anti-Slavery Congressmen and United States Senators; and thus intend to control the federal government. A bold alternative, to be sure.

Is it not over the way leader in the organ, a falsehood to say that the organ is not so far out of its track? I think if Buchanan will withdraw, and all

Remember,

The Daily Democrat costs only 75 CENTS per week, payable to the carriers, and deliverable at any place in the city. Who will go without the news when it can be had at so cheap a rate?

Leave your orders with our clerk, or subscribe to the carriers direct and the paper will be promptly furnished.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN JEFFERSON-TOWN.

There will be a meeting of the people, friendly to the election of Buchanan and Breckinridge, in Jefferson-Town, on Saturday, the 30th Inst., at 1 p.m., for the purpose of forming a Buchanan and Breckinridge Club in that precinct. There will be speaking on the occasion. Come one, come all!

Rally, Rally, Rally!

We are happy to announce that Col. William J. Headly has consented to address the Democratic Association to-night, at Headquarters, on Fifth street. Col. Headly is a powerful and logical speaker, and as well posted on the political questions of the day as any man in Kentucky.

Martin Bixler, Esq., a young man of great promise, and a most capital speaker, has also consented to address the same meeting, at the same place. With two such speakers as Col. Headly and Mr. Bixler, we expect a great turnout and a glorious time. Let us all be there.

RETURN OF THE FILMOUNERS.

The forces of Sam, who attended his wedding party, so appropriately held at Cincinnati, returned by the Jeffersonville Railroad last evening, crossing the Kentucky shore, they fell into ranks, with a good sprinkling of volunteers, and marched up Third street. As they approached the buildings where the meetings were held, the crowd of spectators was exceeding willing to shout, at some hour or other, the words stuck fast in the throats of the cohorts.

Now the end of the procession was a second band, a band of rabble, and the standard-bearer was a black negro. He was doubtless a native American and a Know-Nothing! On they passed until they reached the Journal office. There a halt was called. Somebody tried to say something—don't know what—and in a twink all were gone, and the streets were still again.

WE give this for the benefit of the enthusiastic Fremont individual who prompted the vote, on account of the Filmouners; what signifies any vote about here or elsewhere?

MEMPHIS, Aug. 28.—A voter was taken last evening on the Jeffersonville and Indianapolis Railroad, upon the passing passenger train from Indianapolis to Jefferson, with the following result:

Aug. 28.—
Fremont, 1,000;—
Furness, 1,000.

During the entire time of the meetings of the forces which were cast for Filmouners, the vote was taken at the instance of a Fremont supporter, who supposed that in a moment before the vote was given, four votes for Buchanan came out of the box.

SOMETHING WRONG SOMEWHERE.

We have frequent complaints from Savers and Monterey, and other offices in "Sweet Owen," of the delay and sometimes entire failure of the Democrat sent to those posts. The Journal, learned and mailed at the same time, reaches those points promptly, while we are informed that the Democrat and Courier frequently fall altogether. For ourselves, we can only answer, that paper in the country is mailed with more care or regularity than the Democrat. Where is the faint-fair for fault? Is it?

Will not our excellent Postmaster set us in finding out the cause of the detention?

SUICIDE OF A STUDENT.—(The Newark (N. J.) Advertiser states that George F. King, a member of the senior class of Princeton College, after remaining there a week, returned to Einfeld, Conn., last week, and on Wednesday committed suicide by taking strychnine. No cause was given for the act except depression of spirits. He was a talented young man, about twenty years old, and last year, we understand, stood at the head of the junior class in mathematical studies.

EMIGRANTS FOR KANSAS.

The Frankfort train brought down, yesterday morning, thirty-five young men bound for Kansas. They are sprightly, intelligent young gentlemen, and go to make their settlement there, and give aid to our Southern friends in maintaining the integrity of the laws in that country over the vile example of the Abolitionists at carpet.

ACCIDENT.—As the Frankfort train crossed the tropics last evening, the locomotive came in contact with a dry and sent it a "hitting." The driver was supposed to be asleep at the time, and the engine struck the dry just back of the wheels. The fellow "woke up" about 50 feet distant—a point he reached quite unmercifully, not much hurt, but considerably astonished.

THE MARRIAGE.—There was no difficulty between the Hon. Linn Boyd and Geo. D. Blaize, as stated some time ago by the Memphis Appeal, and copied into our columns. To show how entirely erroneous the statement is, the Radical Democrat says the gentlemen have not met for four years, and it doubtless they would know each other if they did meet.

THE EMERALD AND CONFRIMATION.—It is stated that Miss Eliza Logan has purchased of Col. Wood one-half of the People's Theater, in St. Louis, and it is stated that Col. Wood is about to purchase one-half of this charming actress, or rather make her Wood the belle of her life. They both belong to the public, who are anxious to know the truth.

SOUTHERN EDUCATION.—Bishop Polk, of Louisiana, has addressed a circular to the Bishops of nine of the Southern States, on the "necessity of organizing a system of Southern education, and building up Southern religious institutions as part of a general system of defence, of which the South is daily growing more in need."

THE PARIS CORRESPONDENT OF THE NEW YORK HERALD says that Mario and Grisi are positively going to New York next year with Arditi; and that Anna Lind also intends again to visit the United States, but at what period is not mentioned.

MISS CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN, the celebrated American actress, it is asserted, will soon return to England and play a lengthened engagement at Mrs. Webster's new theater in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keane are also expected soon.

THE BOY OF MRS. DOWNEY by the fire last night is in New York we supposed. Some of her stock was stolen, and that saved is so badly damaged as to be a great valuable. She was inured in one of Mr. Kennedy's agencies.

OUR OLD FRIEND, Walter B. John, Esq., of the Lawrence Democrat, published at Bedford, Indiana, was in our city yester. He looks as though the atmosphere of the "Nostradamus" was genial and bracing.

A HICKORY POLE, one hundred and twenty-five feet long, will be raised on State street, at 3 o'clock, on the corner of State and Main streets. Speakers have been provided for the occasion.

James Buchanan trotted against "Josie Fremont" over the Union Course, Rochester, New York, for $100, a few days since, three miles in harness; and James was unequal enough to beat Josie.

Governor Morehead has pardoned from the State Prison, F. Gasser, who was convicted and sentenced for one year at the last criminal term of the Jefferson County Circuit Court.

We are indebted to our good friends Messrs. McKim & Co., of Portland, for the following paper from the home of "Old Buck."

We direct the attention of those interested to the advertisement of G. C. Canoe & Co.

From the Cincinnati Commercial, 5th ult.

The Union Preserved!

STUPENDOUS TURNOUT:

Extraordinary Nuptials!

THIRTY BRIDES AND AN ODD ONE!

Grand Finale—A Concluding Scene.

Upon mature reflection, we have come to the conclusion that at every stage of his existence, man is a child; maturity is a myth, often prated about, as though it implied as the air we breathe. The child of fifty, equally with his fellow infant, was the "thunder" of Fillmore's artillery. Powder must have been scarce, for such a pupus affair under the protection of firing salutes we never before heard. An old-fashioned match, well charged, would have produced much more violent concussions.—Cin. Commercial, 25th.

Most respectfully yours, G.

THREE were in the direction of the river yesterday, very like that produced by pound on the head of a whisky barrel with a brick. It was the "thunder" of Fillmore's artillery. Powder must have been scarce, for such a pupus affair under the protection of firing salutes we never before heard. An old-fashioned match, well charged, would have produced much more violent concussions.—Cin. Commercial, 25th.

WE have very disastrous news of the destruction of the coming crop in this vicinity, by the late frost last evening. The cold of the age of seven and twenty, which our contemporaries of the Times facetiously denominated "The Union Celebration," and which was as much boys' fun as the old school games which, in our juvenile days, we were wont to play truant to indulge in, with this difference, that the game of yesterday was to be played by us.

At about three o'clock in the afternoon, it being ascertained that the rendezvous previous to forming the grand procession, was to be on the corner of Plum and Seventh street, we hastened thither, and were gratified by the sight of some fifty expectant individuals who had longed to see the small band which was to march in the centre of the street waiting impatiently for reinforcements to come up. Menter's band was there looking sad and tired, although they were the only sensible people engaged in the game, for they were laid to play a very fair game. Mr. Dominic Bradley, of the Cincinnati Commercial, was the only person who appeared to be particularly well posted in matters and things, was a dapper, well-faceted little individual who was quite proud of his information to the unionists.

"You see," said he, addressing a knot of individuals who were thirking after knowledge, "you see, that after the grand procession reaches the river, there are two steamboats, one on the Kentucky side, the other on this; well, one boat is to be reserved for the use of the Union, and the other boat for the use of the Confederacy. The two boats are to meet in the middle of the river, where they will embrace."

"'Waich,'" inquired an inquisitive urchin, "the boat or the young ladies not name 'em?"

"Why, the young ladies be course," replied our comical friend, "and the boat is course. I know this match have kept the "bands" in a fever for some time.—N. Y. Evening Mirror, 25th.

SCOTT—Samuel Rosenbaum, of the firm of Oliver & Rosenbaum, carriage-makers of this city, has the following provision made for the 21st inst.:

"I, Samuel Rosenbaum, of the firm of Oliver & Rosenbaum, carriage-makers of this city, do hereby make known to all persons who are about to be engaged in the business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

they are to be engaged in the

business of

carriage-making, that

